

MORAN IS TRYING HARD TO LET GO

Advertising City Warrants in Effort to Convert Paper
Into Cash.

HOLDING THEM AT PAR
SOME BANKS WON'T TOUCH 'EM
AT ANY PRICE.

Salt Lake City coupon paying warrants (in $50 and $100 denominations) bearing 6 per cent interest. Redeemable in ten annual payments. A safe, conservative and paying investment, especially desirable for small investors.

P. J. MORAN.

P. J. Moran has finally resorted to newspaper advertising in an effort to dispose of special improvement warrants given him by the city in payment for his paving work. Above is an advertisement which the contractor who secured $70,000 for plastering the interior of the Big Cottonwood conduit has caused to be published. Mr. Moran says he is holding the warrants at 10 cents on the dollar.

For the past six months contractors have experienced more or less difficulty in converting city special improvement warrants into cash. One by one the banks refused to take them at par and finally even refused to take them at a 5 per cent discount.

Finally S. Birch prevailed upon the state board of land commissioners to purchase $20,000 worth of his warrants at 30 cents on the dollar and fixed the market price of the securities of Salt Lake City at 5 per cent below par.

Even after this deal was made Frank Johnson of Johnson & Bacon, contractors from Missoula, Mont., who expected to secure some local work, went to the banks before he bid in order to ascertain if they had not changed their attitude. At some of the banks he was told that the warrants would be taken at from 5 to 10 per cent discount, at others he was told that they would have nothing to do with them. Among the latter class was the National Bank of the Republic, which handles all the city's money under the "American" administration.

Mr. Moran up to recently is the only man who has not endeavored to dispose of his warrants at the present market price. But it seems that he has finally felt the pressure for funds and is willing to let go of his holdings.

FRACTURES HIS SKULL

James Pardas Jumps From Rio
Grande Depot Car and Strikes Head.

James Pardas, a laborer employed by P. J. Moran and living at 561 West Second South street, attempted to jump from a street car in the middle of the block at Second South street, between Fourth and Fifth West streets, yesterday evening at about 6 o'clock. He landed on his head upon the stone pavement. Dr. S. G. Paul, who was summoned to attend him, said that he had sustained a fracture of the base of the skull.

John Peters, a friend of the injured man, informed the police that Pardas was riding in car 121 of the Rio Grande depot line. According to Peters, Pardas signalled to the conductor to stop the car in the middle of the block. As the car did not stop, Pardas became impatient and attempted to leap to the street.

After receiving emergency treatment at police headquarters, Pardas was sent to St. Mark's hospital.

The conductor of the car was O. E. Sparks and the motorman was W. Shelton.

TWO SMASHED WINDOWS.

Form Basis of as Many Suits for Damages.

The Freed Furniture & Carpet company brought suit in the civil branch of the municipal court yesterday against Sam Engelman, proprietor of a co-operative furniture store on Second South street, for $58.85 for the breaking of a plate glass window in the plaintiff's store last March. The complaint says that Engelman's team ran away and dashed into the window.

The Midgley-Bodel company, 33 East First South street, brought a similar suit for $200 damages against the Utah Gas & Coke company and Hanley & Ritchie, contractors, alleging that their window was broken by flying rocks from some blasting which was being done in the company's trenches in front of the plaintiff's store.

REQUISITION PAPERS ISSUE.

C. B. Granger Will Be Extradited From Colorado.

Governor Custer yesterday afternoon after a hearing issued requisition papers on the governor of Colorado for the return of C. B. Granger, who is wanted in Ogden for obtaining money under false pretenses. Granger is under arrest at Aspen. It is charged that on December 22, 1906, Granger presented a check for $170 at the First National bank of Ogden to be cashed. As he was not known this was refused and he was told to secure an indorsement. He did in the person of Rich L. Davis, whom he told he had a large account at a Reno bank. This proved to be false and the authorities have been looking for Granger ever since.

That Salt Lake City finances are in a frightful shape as a result of the methods pursued by the "American" reform administration is clearly shown by the above tables, which are comparative statements of the cash on hand at the end of five monthly periods ending Sept. 30. The figures are taken from the monthly reports of Frank A. Swenson, city treasurer, the last of which was issued yesterday.

The most startling feature is the rapid decrease in the amount of cash in the general funds, which are used for the running of all the branches of the local administration. On May 31 there was in the National Bank of the Republic $102,927.20 belonging to this fund. Five months later, Sept. 30, there was a $2,353.09 draft or that amount of indebtedness. But these figures do not show by any means the exact condition of the city's finances. They only represent the cash amounts in the funds indicated at the various periods. With outstanding warrants taken into consideration it is conservatively estimated that the general funds are overdrawn at least $485,000. It is on the principle of a man having $10 in his pocket and owing $100,000.

Statements Discontinued.

For the months ending May 31 and June 30 the city auditor gave out statements, at the request of The Herald, showing just where the city stood. Since then request after request has been made upon him for the figures for July 31, August 31 and September 30. The auditor, however, has refused to make such statements. "In about three weeks," was the answer, and it has been the answer ever since the June statement was published, which showed that at that early date the general funds were overdrawn $230,779.95, of which the overdraft in the contingent fund amounted to $172,097.85. The publishing of these figures in The Herald caused so much comment and so emphasized, as nothing else has done, the extravagance of the reformers, that it is understood upon good authority the city auditor has been persuaded by the "persuaders" to put off all information of this nature until after election.

JIM DONALDSON LOSES SUIT

Bunco Man in McWhirter Case Must Repay to Victims
$1,353.33.

"Dr." Jim Donaldson's cup of woe was filled to overflowing yesterday when Judge Lewis entered judgment against him for $1,353 and $103.33 interest in a suit brought by Alexander McWhirter for the recovery of that amount. The suit grew out of the famous robbery of the McWhirter, for which Donaldson was recently convicted of the crime and is now awaiting the action of the supreme court on an appeal.

The judgment for part of the money stolen on that memorable occasion, $1,650 having already been recovered by attachment proceedings instituted by McWhirter against Donaldson and his companion, Effie Fay, after the former's return from Hot Springs whither he fled after the robbery.

The money which was recovered in the suit decided yesterday was a portion of the $19,000 which the McWhirters lost in the now famous bunco game which caused the resignation of Chief of Police George A. Sheets. Chief of Detectives George Raleigh and the arrest of W. H. Parrott, W. W. Bell and others of equal prominence. To date Donaldson has been the only one of the alleged bunco men or their accessories convicted of the crime and sentenced on the charge, a suit having been granted until his case is carried to the supreme court.

Immediately after the bunco game Donaldson went to Denver, then to Hot Springs, taking with him Effie Fay. At the time of his arrest more than $1,000 deposited in a Hot Springs bank to Donaldson's credit was attached by the brother-in-law, McWhirter, and a civil as well as criminal action begun.

STAY IS GRANTED.

Foreclosure of Mining Company Is Postponed.

E. A. Walton, a stockholder in the St. Joe Mining company, yesterday secured an order from Judge Lewis postponing the foreclosure of the company's property on a judgment for $50,000 secured by J. E. Danner and others until he could argue a petition in intervention which was filed at the time the order was made. Walton claims that the officers of the company are guilty of gross misconduct and that judgment was entered by default because of a conspiracy existing among them to wreck the company. He says that the notes which the judgment is based on and the sale ordered were issued without authority for the purpose of paying large salaries to the officers, who, he says, never troubled to get the money in any way. The claim is made that the property is valuable and that it can be easily developed into a paying proposition.

GADSKI SALE OPENS GOOD

Salt Lake Music Lovers Interested in Coming of Great Soprano
Next Week.

Gadski, rated as the greatest soprano in the United States today, will be heard in concert in the tabernacle on Monday evening next. The seat sale began yesterday morning at the store of the Clayton Music company. Considerable interest has been manifested by music lovers in this concert, and it is certain to rank as one of the biggest musical events of the season.

Madame Gadski.

Gadski made her New York debut in March, 1906, in the role of Elsa in "Lohengrin," and she stepped into instant favor. In 1908 she became a member of the Grau company, receiving on Grau's retirement a $300,000 for the next twelve months. Gadski's nights became quite the most fashionable of the opera season, the prima donna's aid and humbly being especially popular. A difference with Mr. Conrad led Gadski to sever her connection with the opera company, and for three seasons she devoted herself exclusively to concert under Loudon Charlton's direction. She is now back at the Metropolitan, where she is giving a series of recitals between the concert and operatic fields.

THIEF IS WELL CLOTHED

Rifles Room of Will Howard and Joe Goss While They Are Duck Shooting.

"Mr. Raffles," who robbed the room of Will Howard, treasurer, and Joe Goss, stage manager of the Orpheum, must have felt that his attire was growing shabby, for he took little besides clothing, all of one size. The thief entered the room of Messrs. Howard and Goss at the Angelus, 31 East First South street, while they were out duck hunting Tuesday morning. He first took off the ragged coat he was wearing and hung it up carefully in a closet. He then, apparently, dressed himself from head to foot in brand new clothing belonging to Mr. Goss. He also took several razors and an assortment of ties of the latest pattern.

He did not touch any of Mr. Howard's garments, probably because they were the latest. All the time he was in the room Howard's belongings were a solid gold watch box.

Mr. Goss is of the opinion that the robbery was committed by some one who knew that he was going duck hunting, as the room must have been entered soon after he and Mr. Howard left it.

WILL GIVE A DANCE.

Seniors of High School Are Allowed to Break Rule.

The senior class of the High school held a meeting yesterday at which it was decided to move from the present assembly to the large assembly hall vacant by the freshman class. This change will relieve the lack of room. It was also decided to give a dance on October 12. This is contrary to the rule adopted by Professor Eaton as to class dances, but upon getting in touch with the pupils this year he thinks that an affair of this kind can be given without any harm.

INVITE A TEST.

F. C. Schramm Asks Catarrh Sufferers to Try Hyomei on His Guarantee.

F. C. Schramm invites all who suffer from any form of catarrh trouble, to get a Hyomei treatment from him with his absolute guarantee that if it does not give perfect satisfaction, the money will be refunded upon request.

There is no other treatment for catarrh that in any way resembles Hyomei, and that gives such quick curative results and lasting satisfaction, no medicine that can take its place, none that can be sold on a guarantee like this, to refund the money unless it cures.

Catarrh is a germ disease, and can be cured only by breathing Hyomei, so that the most remote air cells in the nose, throat and lungs are reached by its antiseptic healing powers. In this way catarrhal germs are killed, the irritated mucous membrane is healed and catarrh is driven from the system. This wonderful medicated air treatment does not drug and derange the stomach, but is breathed through a little pocket inhaler that goes with every dollar outfit.

The unusual way in which F. C. Schramm sells Hyomei attests his confidence in the remedy. For sale by F. C. Schramm, corner First South and Main streets. "Where the Cars Stop."

GOES WITHOUT BIDDING HIS SWEETHEART ADIEU

Police Don't Know Where Rogers Is Bound For, but He's Certainly on His Way.

Where is Bert Rogers? Rogers was arrested last week as a suspicious character. At the time he carried a loaded revolver and two long stockings tied together in such a manner that they might have been used as a mask. He explained that he carried the revolver because he feared trouble with a larger man, who had threatened to attack him.

Last Friday Rogers was arraigned before Judge Diehl in the police court. Pure Food Inspector Walter Frazier, who recognized young Rogers as a mail wagon driver employed by his brother-in-law, J. M. Robinson, told Judge Diehl that Rogers bore a good reputation, and for that reason the judge allowed the young man to go, on his promise to appear in court on Monday afternoon.

At the appointed time Rogers did not answer to his name. It was called by the court clerk. A bench warrant was immediately issued for his arrest, but the officers sent out after him were unable to find him.

It is understood that Rogers has returned to his home in Kentucky, where his father is said to be a man of wealth and standing.

One of Rogers' companions in the service of Mr. Robinson received a brief note from him, saying:

"Tell Ida I still love her."
His departure was so sudden that he did not even take time to say good-bye to his sweetheart.

The police are wondering what it was that caused Rogers to take such a hasty flight in getting out of their clutches.

ORDER IS DENIED.

Stockholders Fail in Attempt to Escalate Paying Assessments.

A restraining order against M. T. Lyon and the Lyon Mining company to prevent them from selling stock belonging to Fred Peterson and others for failure to pay assessments was denied by Judge Armstrong yesterday. Peterson and his fellow plaintiffs claimed that the stock was sold to them on the representation that one would soon be shipped from the company's mine and that it would be enough to pay running expenses. For this reason they objected to paying the assessment levied by the directors but the court refused to uphold their contentions.
